THE GAZETTE.

THURSDAY EVENING, JUNE 11.

His Wife Cook .- An editor who married a girl from a cooking club prints the following for his paper after a few days of married life: Go stand where I have stood, go feel what I have felt, eat calmly half cooked food, and fish and eggs that smelt. Go take what I have took, go bear what I have bore, throw tea cups at the cook and swear as I have swore. Go live on juiceless steak, and soggybread half baked; at midnight lie awake and cook as I have speed. Go green with and sche as I have ached. Go gnaw with all your might on tough doughnuts and ples, and stop between each breath to pick out hairs and files. Go do what I have done make yourself a fool by winning as I have won, a girl from a cooking school.

A SHIP LIKE THAT OF COLUMBUS -Lieut. William McC. Little, of the naval branch of the World's Columbian Exposition, who has been detailed to superintend the construction of a vessel "which shall be an exact reproduction of the one in which Columbus sailed to the New World on his voyage of sailed to the New World on his voyage of discovery," has been in consultation with shipbuilders for some time. It is intended that this vessel shall lead in the proposed mayal review. Lieut. Little will go to Earope to obtain the best posssible descriptions and get photographs of pictures of the interior. After the review the ship will be taken up the St. Lawrence and through the Welland Capal to Chicago. Welland Canal to Chicago.
